PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hope all is well and good with you Triple Deucers today and that you are all signed up for attending the next greatest reunion ever in Vegas May 3-6. If you are not going OK, let's talk about what else you can be doing to either connect for the first time with the guys you walked the walk with in Vietnam, or keep connections that you have already made.

There of course is no substitute for sitting across a table from one or more of your combat Brothers at a reunion, but who says it has to be there? Just this week one of my Nam squad leaders made a connection with our organization and me for the first time in 48 years. As we talked on the phone we discovered that he lives only 15 minutes from another of the old platoon, Joe Esser in a Chicago suburb. You can bet that he and I and Joe will be doing that sitting across the table routine real soon. This is a good example of how important it is to get the contact and home location information of every guy you make contact with, and keep it handy. You may not live close, but another Brother may, and you can be the go between to getting them together face to face.

The locator link on our web site offers several proven methods for finding and contacting your Brothers in Arms . Look them up and use them as this long winter winds down. You may just find yourself doing a bit of traveling towards a table that will have a very important person sitting there waiting for you...

Dick Nash, A /HHC/69

EDITOR'S COMMENT

Much has been said about the next greatest reunion ever to be held May 3-6 in Las Vegas. A few thoughts come to mind, please see page 4 for the schedule. The three most prominent definitions of a reunion are

1. an instance of two or more people coming together again after a period of separation.
2. a social gathering attended by members of a certain group of people who have not seen each other for some time.
3. The act or process of being brought together again as a unified whole.

www.dictionary.com/browse/reunion

1. Regardless of how many attend the reunion, the real coming together is the face-to face interaction you have with Brothers with whom you served or Brothers you have become acquainted with since the war. Having attended numerous 22nd IRS/Triple Deuce reunions, I have formed many friendships and close bonds. However, this reunion promises time with not only someone else from D company but one who was beside me during that time. The anticipation is growing.

2. The social times are always fun. There is also the lure of Las Vegas. There will be free time scheduled to see the sights (I have promised the co-editor a few outings to celebrate) Just know the Hospitality Room is open for your use. You never know who else might show up in there and join your conversations So whether it has been 50 years, a year or a day since you have seen that Brother...enjoy

3 At the reunion there will be many guys our age (we are not the young ones anymore; did anyone notice?), there will be a few old guys and a growing number of younger ones. We all have a common bond. We served this great country. Since returning, our paths may have varied but the one constant is. . .we all fought for the freedoms we enjoy today.

So. . .my final thoughts are. . . Come to Vegas, enjoy our freedoms, renew friendships, make new ones and create some memories. That's what it is all about. . .anyway. . . that is how it seems to this old soldier.

REUNION LOAN & ATTENDEES PROGRAM

It's time to start planning for the Las Vegas Reunion. If you would like to attend but find yourself, or one of your close Buddies, in less than a good financial situation, then you should read the full description of both of the Programs, they are posted in this Newsletter. One of them may just help you to get to the Las Vegas Reunion. Your Vietnam Triple Deuce Brothers have contributed to both of these Programs because they want you at the Reunion.

If you have any questions, call me, or anyone you feel comfortable talking with about the Programs. The names of those who come to Reunions with the help of these Programs are not made public. Only the Board Members know who is participating.

REUNION LOAN PROGRAM

The Board of Directors has created a Reunion Loan Program for the purpose of providing Financial Assistance to Members who wish to attend a reunion. Here's an outline of how the Program works:

Funds will be available for lodging, reunion registration, 22 IRS Reunion activities including tours and banquets. And incidental expenses. Incidentals include breakfast and lunch expenses. No cash advances will be made. Vietnam

Triple Deuce, Inc. will pay all approved items directly to the provider. This does not include incidental expenses. The Treasurer will be responsible for incidental cost.

No bar expenses or room service charges will be considered as Program expenses.

The Member taking the loan and the Treasurer will agree to loan repayment schedules. There are no timetables for repayment and there are no interest charges.

The Board will, 12 months before the next 22 IRS Reunion, determine the amount that is to be allocated for the Program and the number of Members allowed to participate.

Selection will be considered on a "first come, first served" basis.

The identity of the Member taking the loan will not be announced or in any way made public.

So, if you have been considering coming to a Reunion, but haven't because your budget won't allow for it, well here's your chance to come and visit with your Vietnam Triple Deuce Brothers. The funds we have in the Treasury are intended for this type of use and nothing would please your Combat Brothers more than to have you come to the Reunion. You earned the right to be at a reunion. Come and join us.

Anyone wishing to take advantage of the Reunion Loan Program should contact me. Remember, this is a "first come, first served" arrangement.

Jim May
Treasurer

ELECTING THE BOARD

The coming of another greatest reunion ever also brings about the election of another Board of Directors for the leadership of Vietnam Triple Deuce. The term is for the 18 months until the next reunion. And the election takes place at the reunion business meeting held right after the meeting of the 22nd Infantry Regiment Society's meeting on Saturday. If you are interested in running for one of the 5 seats please let me know so I can get you on the ballot, or line up someone to nominate you from the floor at the meeting. The officer positions are elected by the 5 members of the Board after the election...see you there.

WHAT ARE THESE GUYS THINKING?

Some guys just don't think like me. When someone says something or does something I would never say or do, my first reaction is, "What is this guy thinking?"

I'm simply not getting it. This man is coming from a different planet than the one I live on. OK...I'm not typical. I do things differently and regret it some times, but usually I'm right on and just a little ahead of the crowd. Not that I'm a trail blazer either. The pack is a good place to hide sometimes when you want to. Hiding behind the person in the row ahead of you sometimes keeps you out of sight of the teacher.

But if you've broken enough rules then the teacher generally already knows who you are and calls on you even when you're scrunching down. Not only do they know your name but they know where you sit! When I was heading out into the field in a country called Vietnam, I was in a line (always in one of those) that ran past this sergeant. He was checking each soldier off his list asking everyone if they got a superficial wound would they want their parents notified. Everyone was saying no except this kid behind me. "Yes," he said, and I thought what a knucklehead. Why worry the family back home on something that wasn't serious? I never saw him again so I don't know if he made it back to the world in one piece, but by the decisions he was making, I had my doubts.

Same thing with the letters they wrote back home. Many guys would write their loved ones telling them exactly what was happening. How they earned their CIB for being in a firefight, how the pointman triggered a booby trap and lost his legs, and how dangerous it was to be living there. On a TV program, you might have seen; Letters from Vietnam. Why would any thinking soldier do that to their family?

What would be the purpose? To create more anxious moments for them? To let them know their son or husband is going to be the next John Wayne? My letters were boring. I only complained about what the Army called coffee and perhaps the heat. No action. No firefights. No mines in the road. No snipers shooting at us or air strikes needed to support us. No guys getting wounded or killed. Even when I was blown off a track by a 60lb mine, 2 days later when I regained conscious I wrote home that I had fallen off the track. No problem Mom, just a little scratch. No need to worry.

Perhaps it was because people from my family didn't do very well in wars. Two were killed in World War I, an uncle was killed in World War II. Another uncle was killed in the Korean War and I almost joined the unlucky group. Maybe that's why I never had any sons, they wouldn't have done well over in Iraq or Afghanistan.

If you know a reason I'm not thinking of please clue me in (I got that from Kookie on Seventy-Seven Sunset Strip) Many guys are lost in the 60's. Me, as I said I'm a little ahead of them. I'm lost in the late 50's...

CBOs AND ONE GO ELK HUNTING

On a cold Winter day last November, a secret and sinister meeting took place in Cove, Ore., a tiny town in the foothills of the Blue Mountains in Eastern Oregon. Five of us had planned this meeting for a year. Now, the long awaited day was here! Our annual Elk Assassination, oops, I meant hunting trip, was here. I had picked Jimmy May up at Portland International Airport from his long flight from Connecticut, then another 5 hour road trip to Cove to meet up with 3 more Charlie Company guys, Rich Miller, from Cove, John Layman from Phoenix, Az, and Steve Cowthourp from Portland, Ore.

Now that we were together, we sat down for dinner to discuss what lies ahead, the weather, is their snow at the camp yet, have elk been spotted in our camp area, who's digging the latrine? Well most of the conversation was about priorities, so we talked about who was on latrine duty that week, well, it was voted 4-1 that Lt. James May, will take on, such an important duty. I don't think I have to tell you who the "No" vote was. Lt. Jimmy is meticulous to the fine details and that is why he has been voted the last several years to Volunteer for such a highly esteemed duty to take care of his men! Hats off to the LT!!!! As usual, he did an Exemplary job! We got our camp set up, and now was the time to go after the prized Elk. This year their didn't seem to be the "Best" year for Elk; very few were taken, we saw a some Cows but few Bulls. We hunted hard, but the elusive elk, was just that, elusive!

So, we'll look ahead to next years assassination, oops again, I mean "Hunt" and maybe try Montana!!!! All had a Great time again this year!!! Elk or not, it's always wonderful to spend time with your Brothers....

VIETNAM SERVICE LEADS TO INTERESTING CAREER

Information copied from the Military Assistance Command Vietnam/Office of Information website solved a question posted in the e-mail about years of service for a Triple Deucer. It is copied here . Pictures were furnished by Harless Belcher

Ron Bartlett boasts that, after spending the Fourth of July 1969 in hell, he spent the Fourth of July 1970 in Heaven. If that's not an attention-getting opening sentence, there's no such thing, but what is he talking about?!? Well, Ron was drafted, and he was sent to Vietnam with an 11B10 MOS as a member of Charlie Company, 2/22nd Infantry/25th Infantry Division. His vivid description of sleeping in the mud and burning the leeches off his body every morning, along with numerous firefights, would induce gastric distress in many grizzled career infantrymen, and would truly be hell for many of us. So when he found a path to salvation, he trod it gratefully

Deeds Not Words

His salvation came in the form of the unit Re-Up NCO, who offered him the chance to take a short discharge and exchange his two-year draft commitment for a three-year enlistment with a choice of duty assignments. He probably had to pinch himself as a reminder that he was in an Army reenlistment office and not a tent revival service. In short, he began a new life as a TV director with AFVN in Saigon, with an air conditioned work environment and living in a hotel with maid service. "I couldn't see," he says, "how life could get better."

Ron describes his Vietnam adventure as "a trip from disaster to director," and it was literally a trip that did change his life. Suddenly he found himself at the age of 19 in a TV studio directing news broadcasters. "AFVN was and is one of my fondest memories," he says today, "and so are the people."

Although his main job from September 1969 to August 1970 was to direct newscasts, he also directed a number of entertainment shows. "Star Search" was one of those. It was an amateur talent show which would bring GI's in from the field for a moment under the spotlights. It predated, by more than a dozen years, the late retired Marine Reserve Colonel Ed McMahon's civilian nationally syndicated show of the same name. Another program was "In Town Tonight," in which dignitaries and celebrities who had come to Vietnam to visit and entertain the troops would be interviewed in a Johnny Carson Show format. Another show, and Ron's favorite, was the 31 December 1969 New Year's Eve special. This was a live presentation of the stage show "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," aired in its entirety to welcome in 1970.

Ron left Vietnam 1 August 1970, and after fulfilling his obligation to American Forces Radio/Television he returned to civilian life, where he put his Army experience to good use. For the following two decades Ron was manager of a local NBC TV affiliate. He then rejoined government service as TV director and editor for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in Atlanta.

Along the way, Ron found the time to study at Columbus State University in Columbus, Georgia.
